Two junior sailors from the Cohasset Yacht Club and Cohasset Sailing Club placed 7th and 11th, respectively, last week in the Massachusetts Bay Midget races at MIT on the Charles River.

Scott Duncombe, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Duncombe of 2 Sheldon Road, sailed his Tech Dinghy as defending champion of the Wood Trophy. His 11 year old sister, Amy, qualified to crew with him by placing second in the class competition at the Yacht Club. Tim Curran and Perry Harris sailed for the Sailing Club.

Children, teens and young adults returning to school at grammar, high, and college levels are no longer the only ones thinking about upcoming schedules and courses. Many adults, and many women, are returning to the fulltime student ranks to complete and further their education.

Mrs. Molly MaDan, who begins a two year course at the B.U. Graduate School of Management for a MBA degree this September, earned her Bachelors degree in economics at the Univ. of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. She worked in the Securities Department of New England Life Insurance Company for seven years.

Mrs. Denise Yess returns to B.U. for the last half of study for a Masters of Science degree in Speech and Language Pathology. She did her undergraduate work in speech pathology at Marquette University, Wis. After completion of the degree study, she will spend nine months interning for Clinical Certification, and afterwards will be qualified to work in hospitals, clinics, or private practice with people who have speech problems. She and her husband James have two children, Jimmy, 5, and Desiree, 8.

Mrs. Kathy Palimeri of 347 N. Main St., will begin a two year nursing program at Massasoit Community College in Brockton this September. She had worked at South Shore Hospital as a certified surgical technician. Supporting her efforts are husband Patrick, and children Kelly, 17, Joseph, 15, Alise, 12, and Leah, 10; the oldest, Michael, is in the Navy.

Kathy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Migliaccio of No. Main Street, were happy to learn of her brother Nicholas' recent promotion to vice president of the Joseph Garneau Co. in Louisville, Ky. where he lives. He and Kathy are both Cohasset High School graduates.

To all students — best wishes for a successful school year!

Bob and Carol Beggan of 4 Sankey Road, are parents of a daughter, Hannah Elizabeth, both Aug. 18 at Boston Hospital for Women. They have two other children, Matthew, 8, and Catie, 5. Grandparents are Mrs. Betty Grassie of Cohasset and Mr. and Mrs. William Beggan of Arlington. Great Grandparents are Mrs. Catherine Noonan and Mrs. Kathryn Grassie, both of Cohasset.

Richard Grassie, his wife Susan, and their children, Sarah, 8, Lauren, 5, and Paul, 2½, have been frequent visitors at Mrs. Betty Grassie's home this summer as they are in the process of moving back to the South Shore from Virginia. They will be living in Hanover.

The Cohasset Rec's 14-and-under tennis team were not surprised last Monday to meet very tough competition in the Sportsman Tennis Team, who defeated them 6-0 in the quarter-finals round of the Harris-Wightman League of the NELTA. In spite of the defeat, coach Helen Pratt says the kids felt good about their playing and the progress they have made this summer, their first as a team in this new junior league. They plan to invite the Sportsman Tennis Team to Cohasset at the beginning of the next season for the experience of more play with this excellent team.

Mrs. Tyler Pratt Mullally, formerly of Cohasset and daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Reginal Pratt, was married Aug. 1 to Henry W. Putnam of Lawrence, Long Island.

Bob Donahue of 185 Jerusalem Road was aboard the Five Queens on Aug. 25, assisting Captain Bob Baggs of Scituate and Bob's brother, Carl of Allston, when they landed the biggest bluefin tuna of the season, a 1.177 pounder! Donahue and Baggs have been fishing together for eight years and between them have caught over 60 bluefins by rod and reel. This enormous tuna was only 58 pounds short of the World's record bluefin caught last year off Prince Edward Island, weighing 1.235 pounds!

Hiller Zobel of 294 Jerusalem Road, was confirmed this week as a State Superior Court Justice by the Governor's executive council. Mrs. Rya Zobel was confirmed last March as a U.S. District Court judge. Mr. Zobel is a graduate of Harvard College and Harvard Law School; he attended Oxford University and has written many legal and historical articles; a book on the Boston Massacre and co-edited volumes of the John Adams legal papers.

He is a law partner of the Boston firm of Brown, Rudnick, Freed and Gesmer

John Coe was spotted riding a ten-speed bike with no hands down a long portion of South Main Street — and on around the corner on Sumner Street — still with no hands! We were duly impressed.
